

1990 Phoenix Award Winner

Enchantress from the Stars

by Sylvia Louise Engdahl

(Atheneum, 1970; Aladdin, 1989; Walker, 2001; Firebird, 2003)

Elana, an intelligent and determined young woman of twenty, stows aboard a Federation interplanetary spaceship bound for the Youngling society of Andrecia. She becomes involved in preventing invading Imperialists from destroying the Youngling civilization. High action, strong themes, rich characterizations, steadily mounting suspense, and three artfully executed modes of narration dramatize the clash between cultures and make this science fantasy outstanding.

1990 Phoenix Honor Books

Ravensgill

by William Mayne

(H. Hamilton, 1970; Dutton, 1970)

Sing Down the Moon

by Scott O'Dell

(Houghton Mifflin, 1970)